What challenges does Haiti face in generating and distributing electricity?

Haiti faces significant challenges in generating and distributing electricity reliably. The lack of access to affordable and reliable power significantly hinders investment and business development. The majority of electricity is produced using imported fossil fuels.

Why is Haiti struggling to modernise its energy sector?

Haiti's recent battles to modernise its energy sector serve as a stark lesson for how fraught the business of energy transition can be. In the wake of the scandal, the struggle to provide Haiti's 11 million people with reliable energy - and the desire to attract foreign investment to do so - has taken on an evermore politically charged hue.

Can private investment help solve Haiti's energy crisis?

"We have had this energy crisis for a long time, more than 20 years," says Evenson Calixte, managing director of Haiti's Autorit  Nationale de R gulation du Secteur de l'Energie (ANARSE), the nation's energy regulatory authority. "And we believe that one element that can help reform this sector is private investment."

How much power does Haiti have reliably?

Haiti has an installed capacity of 250 to 400 Megawatts (MW) but only 60 percent of it is reliable. Many generation units and grid elements need rehabilitation and repair work. The distribution network has not been rehabilitated for more than 40 years.

Does Haiti's President need energy?

For Haiti's President, who has made the provision of energy nationwide the cornerstone of his presidency, the promise has taken on added urgency as the nation approaches general elections slated for 2021.

The RfP is being run by EarthSpark International - a small-scale clean energy product distributor that focuses in Haiti. It calls for a solar-storage microgrid in Tilburon, on the coast of the country. It also calls for additional microgrids in two other towns located in Haiti's southern peninsula.
